City of Belgrade, Belgrade Chamber of Commerce and Central European Development Forum CEDEF are organizing the second investment forum "Belgrade Investment Days" to be held in Belgrade, 24-26 October 2016

After the inaugural and highly productive Belgrade Investment Days which was held in 2015, we are continuing with this unique series of investment conferences in the heart of South-East Europe. The goal is to bring business and financial communities in direct contact in order to improve the business climate and finalize business arrangements. This event gives investors, international financial institutions, diplomatic corps, ministries, banks, foreign and domestic companies and local governments the possibility to present their investment potential and agree cooperation.

The Prime Minister of Serbia Aleksandar Vučić has been invited to open the Belgrade Investment Days Conference as he did the year before. The attendance has been confirmed by the President of Government of Vojvodina Igor Mirović, the Mayor of Belgrade Siniša Mali, the Mayor of the City of Novi Sad Miloš Vučević, the Provincial Secretary for Regional Development, Interregional Cooperation and Local Self-Government Ognjen Bjelić, the World Bank Country Manager for Serbia Tony Verheijen, the Head of European Investment Bank Regional office for the Western Balkans, Dubravka Negre, the President of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Serbia, Marko Čadež, general managers of leading domestic and international companies like Telekom Serbia, Siemens, Veolia, DDOR and many others.
